18. MotherLink does not guarantee that the ordered content will be placed on the homepage of the selected domain. Ordered content will be placed in the relevant section based on the category and topic of the selected link.
19. After selecting the websites, you will be required to set the requirements for the content, which will be written by MotherLink. The initial requirements must comply with the requirements stated in the section "Content requirements" of this agreement.

20. Once the order is submitted and paid for, MotherLink will provide you with the content. After approving the content, MotherLink will place the ordered content to the selected website and provide you the link with the order results. The order results must be accepted by you for your content to stay published on the website.
21. The turnaround time of the article and time until the link goes live depend on your speed of response to the inquiries regarding information submission and approvals.
22. MotherLink will provide the information regarding the duration of the content placement for all domains. The duration of the content placement is a promise from the domain owner to MotherLink, but not a guarantee. You do understand that a permanent content placement can be permanent but not guaranteed by MotherLink to be. This applies to all domains except the ones with a duration of (1) one year minimum.

In case the content gets removed before the expiration of the guaranteed time, MotherLink will reimburse you proportionately for the discrepancy between the actual time the content lasted and the guaranteed time. You understand that you're eligible for such reimbursement only if you have informed MotherLink at the time of such discrepancy. For example if you paid for the content placement (300) three hundred EUR, but the content was placed for eleven months and removed, you're eligible for a refund of (25) twenty five EUR if you have informed MotherLink about this case before the twelfth month of the guaranteed time started.
25. You acknowledge and consent to the fact that MotherLink functions as an intermediary connecting you with the publisher or webmaster. To enable the provision of our Services, MotherLink will share the information derived from either the content requirements or the content you've submitted with the publisher/webmaster, ensuring the delivery of the Services.
26. In case the guarantee time has passed and you have noticed the discrepancy between the promised duration of the content placement and the actual placement, you can always contact help@motherlink.io and MotherLink will try to contact the domain owner and help solve the issue. You understand that MotherLink only guarantees the reimbursement of funds in case of rules described in article 24, section 3.

IV. Content Requirements

1. MotherLink will provide articles with a standard length of 500-550 words unless specified otherwise by you. Additional fees for content writing will apply in that case.
2. The content varies depending on the ordered domain in order to look natural and not to contain too much promotional content.
3. Articles will contain the requested anchor text(s) and target URL(s) and may have up to 2 authority links to reputable sources. MotherLink guarantees that such links will not be associated with your competitors.

These types of websites are shown under the “specific” filter in the MotherLink platform and it is your responsibility to make sure your content requirements apply to the selected websites, before you place the order. You understand that ordering a gambling related publication for a non “specific” website will result in Motherlink rejecting that part of the order.
8. When ordering content from MotherLink, you are entitled to 2 amendments to each content piece. In this case, the number of edits to each content piece may not exceed 2.
9. The content can be edited to match your standards and requirements. If you wish to modify the content significantly by changing one or more of the key specifications described before, an extra fee will be charged.
10. You understand that once you approve and the webmaster or publisher publishes the content in accordance with your approval, it's important to note that no alterations can be made to the content/publication. Should you later request content revisions after publication, please be aware that an additional fee may be incurred. This extra charge is necessary to cover the added work required by both MotherLink and the webmaster in implementing these requested fixes.

11. If you wish to rewrite the content completely, this is considered to be a rejected publication. In this case you will be offered in-store credits totaling the exact value of the failed part of your original order and offered to place another order, using the in-store credits. In case no alternative can be agreed on, the failed part of your original order will be refunded to the same account the payment was made from.
12. You are solely responsible for the content to comply with all content requirements stated in this agreement.
13. You understand that MotherLink writes the content according to your requirements and will only send the content for publishing after your approval. You agree and understand that after you have approved the content, it may be still amended by the webmaster or the website owner to be compliant with the website rules.
